FIVE DIE IN TEXAS PLANE CRASH

DEATHS FOLLOW MID-WEST HEAT WAVE

REPUBLICANS FAIL SETTLE ROW OVER HUSTON

MERCILESS SUN SENDS MERCURY TO NEW HIGH FIGURES

TWENTY DEATHS HAVE OCCURRED FROM HEAT; 108 DEGREES IN SOME PLACES

CHICAGO, July 10.—(AP)—Middle America wilts under a merciless sun.

Twenty have died. The grain fields—save for corn—suffers. Farm work falters, the baking sun a checkrein to man and beast.

Indeed two of the heat deaths occurred in the fields. An Iowa farmer, prostrated by a temperature high in the nineties, fell dead at his plow. A Nebraska farmer died the same way.

There were temperatures of 100 degrees or hotter as far north as Montana and North Dakota, and south to Louisiana and Alabama.

The hottest spot officially, was Miles City, Mont., with 108 degrees. Huron, S. D., had a reading of 102, while the Fahrenheit heat went also to three figures in Omaha, Kansas City, Sioux City, Ia., St. Louis, Mo., Evansville, Ind., Nashville, Tenn., Shreveport, La., Emporia, Kas., and Birmingham, Ala., to name a few widely separated places.

There wer unofficial readings of 108 degrees in places in South Dakota and Sioux Falls. Wheat, oats, rye, barley and flax have begun to show the effect of the hot weather. A South Dakota crop bulletin also called attention to the effect the heat was having upon farm work.

Chicago, surrounded by heat, benefitted by its Lake Michigan location, a northeast breeze fanning thankful thousands. Milwaukee and other lake shore cities also enjoyed comparative isolation from the heat blanket.

Forecasters offered little relief. They did venture that it would be "not quite so warm" in the northwest tomorrow, but Illinois and some other Middle Western sections were warned to prepare for even warmer weather.

KANSAS CITY, July 10.—(AP)—"Make hay while the sun shines" is a proverb strictly applicable to hay in the opinion of wheat combine harvesters. Unable to work in the blazing sun, crews last night began to harvest the grain by moonlight.

The heat which kept them out of the field by day yesterday, caused the death of Ole Olson, 45, a Bean Lake, Mo., farm hand, who died in the field in which he was plowing corn.

COLORADO BANDIT MURDERER MUST PAY PENALTY

RALPH FLEAGLE EXPECTED TO BE HANGED EARLY HOUR ON FRIDAY

DENVER, July 10.—(AP)—Governor William H. Adams today denied Ralph Fleagle, leader of the Lamar, Colo., bank bandit gang, a stay of execution. The governor said he would not interfere with Fleagle's hanging, scheduled shortly after midnight tonight at the state penitentiary, Canon City.

S. Harison White, special counsel for Fleagle, notified of the gov-

MOTOR FUEL SELLS FOR FIVE CENTS IN FRESNO WEDNESDAY

EXPECTED REACH THREE-CENT STATE TAX MARK BEFORE END COMES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—(AP)—Gasoline retailed as low as 5 cents a gallon, including a 3-cent state tax as the price cutting war raged on the Pacific coast today. Predictions were widely made the price would be pounded down to the state tax of 3 cents in California.

The price reached the 5 cent level in Fresno yesterday. One large distributing company in Tacoma which had been selling at 7 1-2 cents retail planned to shade that quotation by 1 cent a gallon. Another firm announced a wholesale price of 4 1-2 cents a gallon in Tacoma.

The lowest retail price in Los Angeles was 8 1-2 cents, including the 3-cent tax. Seattle motorists were paying 9 1-2 cents to 11 cents including the 3-tax. Portland retail prices ranged from 10 to 13 1-2 cents, including a 4-cent tax. Quotations in San Francisco ranged from 10 to 14 cents, including tax.

Independent dealers in San Francisco have asked Governor Young to aid in having gasoline distributors classified as public utilities operating under regulation by the state railroad commission.

ERA OF SWEET SMELLS TO SUCCEED BAD SMELLS FROM MANY INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

HAMILTON, N. Y., July 10.—(AP)—Early arrival of a new era of sweet smells was forecast today by Dr. Donald A Laird, head of the department of psychology of Colgate university.

He foresees many of the widespread, disagreeable odors of industry turned into pleasant aromas through a recently discovered advance in the perfumer's art. By this new method instead of using perfume to cover up bad smells, the evil odor itself is "put to work"

It is given as a companion a minute percentage of some powerful chemical. The new partner, called an industrial aromatic, may be equally evil smelling. But the combination of the two bad odors produces a sweet or a pleasant one.

Industry, says Dr. Laird in a survey issued today, is rapidly taking up the new principle to increase sales of articles which once lacked smell appeal. He quotes a survey of 56 varieties of common smells made by F. Aumueller, a Milwaukee advertising man, to learn how they ranked among customers. The worst was perspiration, garlic second, rubber third and kerosene fourth.

Both rubber and kerosene, said Dr. Laird, now are coming upon the market in guises that no nose would recognize. He told of sprays whose effectiveness depends mainly upon kerosene's odor was "put to work" at making perfume of itself. Rubber's odor is likewise used as the basis of new aromas, said Dr. Laird, but that he is not at liberty to name any of the new disguises.

He credited Dr. Eric C. Kunz of Montclair, N. J., with leadership in the research establishing the methods of getting rid of smells. Kunz found four aromatics which would combine with a linseed oil odor in some artficial leathers so as to produce a pleasant effect.

The same principal Dr. Laird said, can be used to change disagreeable odors in rooms or auditoriums into quite a variety of agreeabel scents. "New-mown hay" is one of the results. But the art has not developed to the point where it can be applied economically to open air odors of the "gas house" type.

Austin Girl Is Fatally Shot; Was Accident

AUSTIN, July 10.—(AP)—Mayron Dyess, 13, was fatally wounded here today when a .32 calibre pistol in the hands of her brother, R. L. Dyess, 15, accidentally discharged. The accident occurred in the Dyess home.

The boy was believed to have been playing with the weapon.

The girl, shot through the abdomen, died within a few minutes, the boy was held for questioning by police.

Neighbor John Aids When Town Wants Anything

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 10.—(AP)—When this suburban community needs something a nd can't find it anywhere else, it generally calls on "Neighbor John."

Yesterday it was a suction pump. A marsh along the Hudson river wasn't draining, and mosquitoes were hatching in the stagnant water to pester the neighborhood on summer nights.

Somebody called the estate of John D. Rockefeller. Yes, Mr. Rockefeller had a suction pump, and Tarrytown was welcome to it. The pump was used and the Marsh was drained.

STERLING MAIN OBJECT OF ATTACK IN GOVERNOR RACE

CANDIDATES KEEPING HUSTINGS HOT IN CAMPAIGN FOR TEXAS GOVERNOR

By the Associated Press

Candidates for governor were keeping the political trails hot over Texas Thursday, denouncing each other and in particular Ross S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the highway commission, and his proposed $350,000,000 state road bond issue.

Just two weeks remained in which they might expound their arguments before the deluge of oratory would be stopped by the solemn scratching of pencils in voting booths.

Some were calling names of their opponents and some were not.

Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller was among the group refraining from mentioning his opponents. However, in a speech last night at San Angelo, he did go so far as to say he was not running for governor "on the last presidential election" and didn't "give two whoops for Tammany Hall."

'I want to do something for the people of Texas," he said, suggesting the unemployment problem as something in which a governor of Texas might take a hand.

Miller planned to speak at Springtown at 2:30 p. m. today.

San Antonio, and in particular, a hotel lobby there, yesterday contained for a time potential causes for political cumbustion in the persons of former governors, James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson, Senator Thomas B. Love and Earle B. Mayfield. The four mingled in the lobby a short time with their local supporters grouped around them.

Each spoke at mass meetings and over the radio during a one-day period.

Senator Love told his audience he would use the full force of the state to enforce the laws—"In Bexar county or any other county." He reaffirmed his intention of bolting in the event Mrs. Ferguson was the democratic nominee this year. He was booked for four speeches today at Denton, with one tonight at the College of Industrial Arts.

Mayfield centered his fire on the candidacy of Sterling, in a radio address, and a speech before a mass meeting last night. He said he saw "the sinister hand of Standard Oil and big finance" behind the Sterling candidacy, as well as behind the prison relocation proposal and the proposed statewide bond issue. He planned to speak at Lockhart this afternoon and at Austin tonight.

Jim Young of Kaufman charged Sterling, in a speech last night at Beaumont, with using the power of his office as chairman of the state highway commission "to gain an impression of strength which in fact does not exist."

Young was booked for an address tonight at Galveston.

Ferguson at Corpus Christi

James E. Ferguson, speaking for the candidacy of his wife, spoke last night at Corpus Christi, flaying the proposed state road bond issue and advocating tax reduction and combining the offices of tax collector and assessor to save counties money. The Fergusons planned appearance tonight at Yoakum.

State Senator Clint Small of Wellington was given a rousing welcome last night at Tyler and expected to speak this afternoon at Valley Mills and at night, over radio station WACO at Waco.

While other candidates were "pouring it on" him and his proposed bond issue, from every quarter, Ross Sterling at Coleman last night termed as "misrepresentations" the claim of his opponents that he would saddle an immense mortagage" on the people of Texas and their descendants with his proposed bond issue.

"I want to lift the greater part of the burden the counties have shouldered to help build state highways, and place it on the traffice, where it belongs," he said.

Sterling's itinerary called for a speech at San Angelo at 10:30 a. m., today over a five-station radio hook-up, another at 5 p. m., at Winters and at Abilene at 8 p. m.

EXPECT NO DELAY ON CONCRETE WORK TOWARD RICHLAND

ROAD BUILDING NAVARRO COUNTY REACHING HIGH MARK THIS SUMMER

Determined to rush the completion of the pavement on highway 75, state highway 14, from Corsicana to Richland, prior to the beginning of the inclement weather conditions this winter, the Navarro county commissioners court late Tuesday authorized Clay Nash, county judge, to advertise for bids on the sale of three or more issues of bonds of consolidated road district No. 1 $76,000 each at the regular meeting of the court, July 28. The court signified its willingness to accept the proposal of the state highway department that the county defray the expense of the paving, about $240,000, with an agreement with the highway department that the county would be reimbursed during the fall when additional funds were available to the credit of the state highway department, according to information received Wednesday.

The awarding of the contract for the pavement of this stretch is expected to be made at the July session of the state highway commission, July 31. The state highway department had advised the Navarro county officials that due to shortage of funds, the contracts scheduled to be awarded at the July session would be awarded only where the counties and districts were in position to defray the entire cost, the money to be refunded later in the year when additional funds were available from the gasoline tax. Officials of the state highway department have stated that the additional funds would not be available before September, but at that time, the awarding of contracts in this section of the county would be late and would cost more due to the fact that allowances would be made for iclement weather conditions in the figures of the contractors. It has been stated unofficially that the highway department is considering the pouring of a 20-foot concrete slab on the road from Richland to Corsicana due to the large amount of traffic which will be taken care of. State highway 14 leaves national highway 75 at Richland and proceeds to Mexia via Wortham, and state highway 32, connects with 14 and proceeds along national highway 75 to Fairfield via Etretman.

Much of the highway has been completed in Freestone county and the contractor is now constructing the pavement on Highway 32 between Richland and Streetman.

Expect Good Bid.

By the awarding of the contract on the Corsicana-Richland stretch in July, local officials and the highway committe are of the opinion that a better bid can be secured, and that the contractor can complete the work before the bad weather begins. If his road is completed before winter, an all-weather road will be available south for Corsicana.

Work is progressing on the dirt and drainage structures on Highway 14, from Richland to the Freestone-Navarro county line near Wortham, and the state highway department is going to defray the cost of a short stretch through Freestone county in the vicinity of Wortham to connect the highway from the end of the road at the Navarro county line to the present pavement extending northward from Mexia to the Limestone-Freestone county line.

Corsicana is assured an all-weather road northward with the awarding of the contract for the remaining four miles of eighteen-foot concrete pavement between the present pavment and Emhouse and the asurance from the state highway department that the four miles between Emhouse and the Navarro-Elis county line will be gravelled as a detour for the traffic on National Highway 75. Work is to start on this within the next few days.

Building Bridge.

Materials were reported to be already on the ground at the site for the $250,000 bridge on state highway 31 spaning Trinity river between Navarro and Henderson counties, and actual construction of the contrete bridge is expected to be under way within the next few days, residents of Kerens stated here Tuesday.

The state highway department is defraying $200,000 of the cost and Navarro and Henderson counties have put up $25,000 each toward the cost of the bridge.

Corsicana and Navarro county will have a hard-surfaced highway into East Texas within a few months, it is thought, by the action taken Tuesday afternoon by the Navarro county commissioners court in appropriating an additional $2000, bringing the county's portion to $6000 of the cost of the right-of-way from the eastern boundary of consolidated road district No. 1 to the Trinity river, a distance of aproximately ten miles on highway 31.

Kerens citizens who had already raised $3000 underwrote an addition $500 to make out the $9500 cost of the right-of-way and damages on that stretch. The state highway department is to construct the entire 10 miles of road, dirt and drainage and also pavement, and all that Navarro county is to provide in the right-of-way.

Will Cost $400,000.

It is estimated that this seretch of road wil cost the state approximately $400,000 when completed, but will connect state Highway 31 with the pavements under construction through East Texas with those under construction in consolidated road district No. 1 including National highway 75. This will give Corsicana and this section a direct all-weather route into Athens, Tyler, and other northeast centers.

The surveys and blue-prints on state highway 31 west out of Corsicana to Waco through Navarro county have been completed. No county funds are available for the construction of this highway and it is expected that the state highway department will eventually construct the road through the county.

The present surveys call for the highway to enter Corsicana via the State Orphans' Home, intersecting state highway 22 near the

Four Rivermen Drowned When Boat Captizes

MAUIWAKI, Que., July 10.—(AP)—Four of six river drivers sent out to the middle of the Malines river to break up a log jam, were drowned Tuesday when their boat overturned.

Two hundred lumbermen watching from the banks, were unable to help them. Two of the six fought their way ashore through the rapids and bobbing logs.

AT LEAST 144 DIE IN GERMAN MINES IN GAS EXPLOSION

NEURODE, Germany, July 10.—(AP)—At least 144 persons lost their lives yesterday in an explosion at the Wenceslaus mine. Eighty-one bodies have been recovered, most of them burned badly. No hope is held for those remaining in the shaft.

Of 200 men in the mine at the time of the explosion only 56 escaped and they were badly injured.

Rescuers found the dead miners still with tools in their hands, wagon men beside their wagons, and the electromotive pilot lifeless at his controls.

Three years ago a similar explosion in the Wenceslaus mine took seven lives. That explosion earned the shaft a reputation as "unlucky" among the miners of Silesia.

The explosion occurred when a large gas pocket was suddenly tapped during blasting late yesterday. The fumes spread through the shafts so quickly that there was little chance for anyone to escape.

Rescue work proved increasingly hazardous and finally was abandoned about midnight after a number of the crew, fitted with gas masks, had been overcome or injured.

The disaster took both men and officials completely off their guard in view of the periodical gas survey having been completed only Sunday.

It was by far the greatest mine disaster Germany has known in years. In 1912, 117 died in the Bochum mine disaster, and in 1925 the death toll in the Dortmund mine reached 135.

CHICAGOAN SHOT TO DEATH IN OWN HOME BY TWO MEN

CHICAGO, July 10.—(AP)—Two men walked into the home of Thomas Bonner early today, upbraided him and then shot him down. Bonner, shot twice through the head, died shortly afterward.

Mrs. Bonner heard her husband admit the men and heard them quarreling. She heard her husband say, "You've got me all wrong." The shooting followed.

Police recalled that Bonner was under investigation as being an associate of Charles (Limpy) Cleaver following the Evergreen Park mail robbery. He was not arrested, however, and authorities never succeeded in connecting him with the holdup.

The police theory is that the shooting was a version of the familiar "double-cross" vengeance, which is held to blame for so many Chicago gun attacks. The gunmen, polices said, may have believed mistakenly that Bonner had wronged them.

Davidson Sums Up The Political Situation Now

Texas political leaders of ten to fifteen days ago are the losers now, said Lynch Davidson of Houston, summarizing the pre-primary horizon Thursday morning before leaving for Dawson where he delivered an address.

"Love and Mayfield have lost fifty per cent of their strength, and even the Ferguson forces have been split," Mr. Davidson said, "and there has been a strong influx of supporters to the Young and Small standards. I believe that there is a strong possibility that neither Love, Mayfield or Mrs. Ferguson will be in the second primary.."

Mr. Davidson indicated that he did not count Barry Miller among the strong contenders. He returned to Corsicana about noon Thursdays and will remain here tonight, going to Groesbeck Friday where he will speak from the same platform with Senator Clint Small in the afternoon.

LYNCH DAVIDSON ATTACKS STERLING AND HIGHWAY BONDS

HOUSTON MAN PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT DAWSON CANDIDATES' DAY GATHERING

DAWSON, July 10.—(Staff Special)—Harshly berating both R. S. Sterling and the state highway bond issue, and deriding the efforts of the Houston Chronicle and Post-Dispatch and Governor Moody to perpetuate the policies of the present administration, Lynch Davidson of Houston made the principal speech at the biennial "candidates day" here Thursday.

Several hundred people from the territory surrounding Dawson and from nearby communities attended the speaking which started at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued far into the afternoon with only a short intermission for lunch.

The tabernacle speaking site was filled to capacity, and hundreds of others were served with a four-speaker system installed at various points in the business section, affording the merchants and their customers the same opportunity as those seeing the speakers. Phil Woodard of Hubbard, district manager for the Texas Power and Light company, operated the broadcasting system.

Mayor J. B. Sawyer presided over the meeting and acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the various candidates. Musical entertainment was supplied by Miss Margaret Keeton of Dawson.

Immediately after Mr. Davidson completed his speech, the candidates for various county offices began presenting their claims, with those making the race for county attorney supplying the closing climax.

In the afternoon several state candidates were presented includ-

KANSAS CITY MEN ON FISHING TRIP TO GULF KILLED

FIVE PROMINENT MEN LOSE LIVES AS PLANE FALLS TEN THOUSAND FEET

ARANSAS PASS, July 10.—(AP)—Five men, all from Kansas City, Mo., were killed when an airplane crashed four miles from here today.

The dead:
MURAT BOYLE.
RAYMOND WATSON.
EUGENE LYNN.
ROY DELLANO.
GENE GABBERT.

A sixth man, S. H. Dierks, also of Kansas City, who flew here with the party, was not in the plane at the time of the accident, having stayed at the port to fish a while longer.

Identification of the dead was made from baggage and papers in the wrecked plane.

A wing to the plane was seen to give way and the craft crashed to the ground shortly afterwards, witnesses said.

Gabbert was piloting the plane.

The plane belonged to W. M. Cross of Kansas City, who was not in the party. It was a five passenger Lockheed monoplane.

There was an explosion aboard at a height of about 10,000 feet, according to those who saw the descent. The plane did not catch fire, however.

The crash occurred about 10 miles from the Port Aransas airport, where it took off.

The plane fell from such an altitude that the bodies of the victims were pushed into the ground.

The party flew from Kansas City to Corpus Christi Sunday. The plane was left at the Corpus Christi airport and the men journeyed here by automobile.

Today the pilot was sent back to Corpus Christi for the craft. The accident occurred a short time after the men had entered the craft and it had taken off from the airport here.

Today's disaster was the second greatest life destroying air accident in Texas' extensive flying history, with the state's several army aviation fields. A plane crash at Spur in West Texas a few months back claimed nine lives.

In that accident, as in today's, there was no one left to tell what happened, all aboard having perished.

All Victims Prominent.

KANSAS CITY, July 10.—(AP)—Murat Boyle, killed when an airplane crashed near Aransas Pass, Texas, today, was president of the Missouri State Bar Association and a member of the firm of Hogsett & Boyle, insurance attorneys.

The others killed were also prominent. Raymond Watson, attorney, was the son of I. W. Watson of the law form of Watson, Gage & Ess.

Roy J. Delano was a prominent realtor of Kansas City.

Gabbert was a flier.

PRIME MINISTER MACDONALD BELIEVED MORE STRONGLY IN FAVOR RESULT CLOSE VOTE

LONDON, July 10.—(AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald, victor of only three votes in a house of commons fight yesterday, was believed today to be more safely entrenched against the next attack upon his regime. This probably will come next week when a motion of censure presented by Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader, is up for vote.

There are predictions of a split in the liberal following as a consequence of tactics of the leader, David Lloyd George, in so nearly forcing an election and ministerial defeat which he admitted he did not really wish.

The lengths to which a section of the conservative following went in an effort to bring about the defeat excited considerable comment today. Observers termed the strategy "subterfuge."

This refetence was to the action of 50 or more conservatives in remaining at St. Stephens Club, nearby, until the moment of the revision, as if to infer their absence was genuine and to foil the laborites into a sense of false security, motivated by which some would remain away from the house during the vote.

At the crucial moment the conservatives filed into the anti-government lobby, along with their fellow tories of more conservative following, and with David Lloyd George and many of his liberals. It was an exciting moment and one which had the laborites badly scared. Four liberals, realizing how close the government was to defeat, hurried into the ministerial lobby then, and others abstained from voting. The outcome was a 278 to 275 victory for the ministry.

With announcement of the results much criticism arose from among liberals or Mr. Lloyd George and of his amendment to the finance bill—which would have exempted from taxation income used in replacements. Several liberals said they would not again follow blindly but would vote with the government in all cases where the government's existence and their seats might be involved.

Labor Retains Seat

AYLSHAM, England, July 10.—(AP) Labor retained its seat for North Norfolk at yesterday's by election necessitated by the elevation of Noel Buxton to the peerage, Lady Noel Buxton, wife of the laborite, being elected.

Heredity Thrust Into Color-Splashed Biography of Jacob

Weakness and Strength of Famous Characters of Bible Are Discussed by Writer: Results of Selfishness Brought to Light.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Several kinds of heredity thrust themselves into the color-splashed biography of Jacob, the contemptible creature who became one of God's princes, and father of history's most famous race.

He had a noble grandfather; and the blood of grandparents has an exciting way of coming out on top before the whole drama of a human life is finished.

But he had a poor stick of a father, colorless, hen-pecked Isaac, the passive victim of many adverse, circumstances. It is ill for a man, and worse for his children, when the wife rules the family. Rebekah also was guilty of the devastating offense of having a favorite among her sons; and not a little of spoiled Jacob's character must be laid at the door of his masterful, unscrupulous mother.

In the end, though, the overmastering divine heredity, which all men may claim, crashed through to lift Jacob into real manhood and a great mission.

Twins, But Opposites

Says Longfellow,

"You may grind their souls in the self-same mill,
You may bind them heart and brow;
But the poet will chase the rainbow still,
And his brother will follow the plough."

Esau and Jacob were twins, the former the elder. Esau was a red-headed, hairy, out-of-doors man, fonder of the hunt than of home. Strong-willed, self-centered, impulsive, he went his own way, and even married Hittite wives, without asking his parents' consent. His virtues were akin to his faults; for he was a real man, brave, reckless, wilful.

His brother Jacob was of another sort: tied to his mother's apron strings; foolishly indulged and favored; his head filled with cowardly craft; heedless of his father's honor; engrossed only in his own advantage.

Nobody loves the careful, calculating self-advantaging, money-lending type of man, who fattens on other folks' misfortunes. This kind who "get along," but never help along, always fail to win the prize of the confidence and respect of their fellows. Such is a high price to pay for riches. When I learned that a certain money-making evangelist invests his large gains in western farm mortgages, I ceased to have any interest in his sermons or in his work: the dispossessed widows bulked bigger in my thought than his long roll of converts.

Avarice and Appetite Bargain

Live-for-the-moment Esau came home from hunting one day, hot and hungry; and found his kitchen haunting brother, Jacob, making a savory stew. In like circumstances, any real man, be he yellow Eskimo, red Indian or black African, would have freely shared with his fellowman. Not so Jacob. Self-interest was never out of his mind for an instant. He knew his brother's weakness and impatience; and straightway proposed an exchange—a mess of pottage (and it is savory food, as I can testify) for the birthright, the privilege of primogeniture which the first-born should have held priceless. What a sorry spectacle! It is always a bad bargain when avarice traffics with appetite.

Now Esau was the sort, who have by no means disappeared from the earth, who have never learned to subdue an impulse for a principle. He was an early exponent of the modern school of "self-expression"—take or do what you want when opportunity offers. Thus it was that a hearty meal of succulent food seemed more desirable than self-respect, the family name, or than all the privileges and honor of the future. Ideals meant little to Esau; carnal gratification meant everything. He was an elemental: he had never grown up to the rationality of manhood. "He despised his birthright."

So the bargain was struck. Esau had the soon-to-be-forgotten dinner; and Jacob had the heirship. Probably Esau despised himself the next day; but he despised his brother more. Jacob had gained an advantage—and lost his brother. His was the greater folly.

Fooling a Blind Man

Old, blind, near to death, Isaac had an aged man's whim for a particular dish—we may infer whence Esau got his fondness for food—and he sent his first-born out-hunting for venison; promising him a father's formal blessing upon his return.

Rebekah overheard: and she hastened to her cooking pots to prepare a substitute. Then she dressed her spoiled darling, Jacob, in the odorous clothes of his out-of-doors brother; and covered his hands and neck with goatskin, that Jacob might seem like hairy Esau to the blind father's touch. So she sent him who from birth had borne the name "supplanter" into feeble Isaac, to steal the boon of the blessing of the first born.

Light floods upon the character of Jacob from the suspicions of Isaac; all of Jacob's lies and Rebekah's craft were needed to carry through the deception successfully. But, in full form and solemnity, the dying parent's benediction was bestowed upon the usurper.

Returning with his trophies from the hunt, and offering his father a huntsman's savory meal, Esau learned the bitter truth. "He took away my birthright; and, behold, now he has taken away my blessing!" he cried, in hot rage and disappointment; and primitive man's passion to slay surged in his heart.

A Grafter on the Run

Eavesdropping Rebekah shrewdly sent Jacob away, to far-off Haran; ostensibly to get him a wife; in reality to escape his outraged brother's wrath. She never saw her favorite son again; although now they sleep side by side in the Cave of Macphelah, beneath the old Mosque at Hebron.

Affrighted, Jacob fled. One night as he slept the sleep of remorse, he dreamed that he saw a ladder ascending to heaven, with angels moving up and down it; and he heard the call of Possibility, the voice of the God of the Covenant, renewing the promise to Abraham. Awed, penitent, he took the stone that had been his pillow—no hardship, but the common usage—and anointed it, and called the place Bethel, or "House of God." What is traditionally that stone is now the seat of the throne on which England's kings are crowned; and Bethel, afterwards, a sacred city, has of late been excavated by American archaeologists.

A Trickster Tricked

This was Jacob's opportunity for a new beginning. His repentance, should have turned to reformation, after his great vision. But his old nature, and inertia, were too strong for him. As John Ovenham has written

"To every man that openeth
A way, and ways and a way.
And the High Soul climbs the High Way,
And the Low Soul gropes the Low,
And in between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A High Way ana a Low.
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go."

Jacob, drifted, and according to his old bent. He agreed to serve his Uncle Laban seven years for his daughter Rachel; but Laban was no amateur trickster himself; and he did not want to have his older daughter, Leah, the sore-eyed, left on his hands. The usages of an oriental wedding wedding ceremony making it possible he substituted Leah for Rachel; and compelled Jacob to serve another seven years for the woman he loved. And he really did love Rachel, one of the redeeming facts of his miserable life.

In the contest of guile between Laban and Jacob, the latter showed himself the shrewder; and ere his indenture was ended he was in possession of most of Laban's goods. So he had to flee.

And Then the Change.

With resentful Laban behind him and revengeful Esau in front of him, Jacob gave a pretty exhibition of a rich man in a blue funk. At the ford of the Jabbok he came upon his great hour. I lunched one memorable day on this spot; for the configuration of the terrain makes the site, like so much of Bible geography, easily identifiable. Impressive beyond words is the scene; here it was that fearsome, fleeing Jacob wrestled all night with the angel. His twenty years of acquisition in Paddam-aram availed him nothing, should Esau appear in anger. All the craft-filled years of the past were seen to be in vain. In an agony of ordeal, his old self and his new contended. The Jacob that had been was in struggle with the Jacob that might be. And God was on the side of long-dormant potentiality.

"Be yourself," says the modern slogan. But which self? A man is less truly expressing himself when he becomes a self-centered carnalist than when he becomes a hero, a helper, a saint, a son of God.

"All night Jacob wrestled and when the day broke the old Jacob, the supplanter, had been defeated; and he was henceforth no more Jacob, the Supplanter; but Israel the Prince of God. The best had got on top of the worst.

When A CLEANSING MEDICINE Is Needed

"I HAVE taken Black-Draught all my life, whenever in need of a medicine for constipation," says Mrs. G. C. Burns, of Buna, Texas. "My mother and father used it in their home for years, and I was raised to think of it as the first thing if I had a headache or was constipated.

"At one time I had indigestion real bad. I was all out of sorts; my skin was sallow, and I had gas pains. After a course of Black-Draught, I got all right. I have given Black-Draught to my children, whenever they needed a medicine of the kind."

Final quotations for wheat were Julq 89 1-8 to 1-4; September, 92 1-8 to 1-4; December 97 7-8 to 98.

CORSICANA, TEX., JULY 11, 1930

JUSTIFIED OPTIMISM.

"So many blessings have been showered upon America that her citizens should be ashamed to be downcast because of a temporary lull in business," observed the Manfucturers Record in a recent editorial in which the conditions of the country are summed up in a very interesting manner. "Americans have made this nation so wonderfully successful through their courage and foresight and their confidence in themselves and the future of their land," we are reminded.

Continuing the editorial discussed the present business situation as follows:

"Surely there has been no fundamental change in the business structure of the nation between last year and this that has shaken this confidence. No war or shadow of war hangs over us, no disaster of nature has befallen us. What then has happened to business? Why should there be hesitancy and doubt as to the wisdom of our former course of aggressive upbuilding, upon which as a nation we have achieved such amazing success?

"Has the natural deflation of enormously inflated securities led sensible business men to believe that the intrinsic value of the properties back of these securities was impaired or their income yield diminished? In scarcely a single instance is such the case.

"Let us look for a moment at facts. General building is off, compared with the past year or two, but is still far above the average of previous decade. In fact, construction proposed and contracts let in the South are three times greater than those reported for the similar period during the deflation of 1921. Automobile production has dropped since the record of last year, but we are producing today at a rate which will show an output of over 4,000,000 motor vehicles, or equal to the production of 1925, which was a record up to that time.

"The power output of public utilities for the first four months of 1930 reached 32,400,748,000 kilowatt-hours, or 85,000,000 kilowatt-hours more than the former record established for the same period of 1929. Public utilities' earnings for the first four months of 1930 amounted to $807,500,000, as compared with $782,000,000 for the correspondig period of 1929. This set a new high record.

"In production of all kinds of finished rolled iron and steel the record of 41,069,000 tons in 1929 was 8,000,000 tons, or 24 per cent, more than we produced during the peak war year of 1917. In 1921 only 14,774,000 tons were produced and 26,452,000 tons in 1922. Production for the first five months of 1930 of 20,352,000 tons of steel ingots indicates that our steel industry is operating at a rate comparable with that of previous years excepting only 1928 and 1929.

"The oil industry of the country is in far better shape than it was only a short while ago, when uncontrolled over production was threatening its destruction. The textile industry is operating on a sounder basis than has been the case for the past several years.

"We have no great accumulation of stocks made under peak prices, such as we had to face following the World War. It is not now necessary for industry to reorganize in order to adjust itself from a war-time to a peace-time basis. Efficiency of production in every line in agriculture, in manufacture, in mining and in transportation—has enabled us to produce and transport a vast quantity of commodities and pay the highest wages in history.

"Never before has there been closer attention given to the business situation, greater effort made to balance supply with demand and to develop and apply efficiency methods in management and operation.

"Based upon sane realization of true conditions the Manufacturers Record looks forward to the future with confidence. This temporary period of business lull cannot for long hold back people who have shown a tenacity of purpose and genius for aggressive business action unmatched by any other peoples of the world. America is backed by resources as great today as they were during our wildest speculative periods. We have the same people; we have the same productive capacity; we have the same marketing opportunities. Do we lack the same courage and confidence which in the past has enabled us to progress at a rate that has amazed the rest of the world?

"Has the fear of foreign reprisals against our tariff caused thinking men to believe that we would lose our foreign trade? If so, do they not overlook entirely the fact that merchandise is sold abroad as well as at home because it is the best that can be bought for the price and because satisfactory credits can be arranged? Have we not always had barriers to overthrow in our quest for export trade? We need not go further than an examination of foreign tariffs on American-made automobiles to prove this point.

"Have our reserves of capital been impaired so that our credit structure is weakened and its support of industry curtailed? A $100,000,000 loan to a foreign nation was recently oversubscribed. Our ability to raise that enormous sum of money was not even questioned.

"This is inventory time. We have been pausing to take stock, to write fictitious values off our books, to clean, oil and renovate our industrial machinery. With supreme confidence in our national future we are now starting on another era of economic progress."

JUST FOLKS

BOY OR GIRL?

Oh, what a curious would 'twould be without divine control
And we could order children as we order meat and coal.
Then folks who wanted little boys their whims could gratify
And those who wanted little girls, a boy would never buy.

But some might order one of each to learn which one is best,
As if so grave a problem could be solved by such a test.
And some might build a family exclusively of boys
While richer folks might order twins to multiply their joys.

Oh, if the choice were left to us, who knows which way 'twould go?
Some fancy they would ask for boys, some others say not so
They'd rather cherish little girls, they're prettier when they're dressed
But no one would be wise enough to know which one is best.

I think it better as it is, were ours the choice to make,
There's none of us could be quite sure which one we ought to take.
So whether it be boy or girl, in this the uestion ends,
We should be grateful to the Lord whichever one He sends.

KNOW TEXAS.

Texas leads the United States in the number and value of "teacherages" maintained for the use of public school instructors. It has 1,330 such homes valued at $1,784,007. Thirty-even of them are for colored teachers.

Texas shipped 7,811 carloads of cabbage and 5,559 carload of spinach during 1929. Zavalla county led in cabbage shipments and Hidalgo in spinach with 3,412 and 4,047 carloads respectively.

The wide variety of Texas' climatic conditions is indicated by a range in 1929 of 127 degrees. Sixteen degress below in Hartley county and 111 above in Clay county were the minimum and maximum recorded by the weather bureau.

With total wealth of $10,898,000,000 Texas ranks eleventh among the states. Among Southern and Southwestern states it ranks first.

A GOOD GUESS

A DARING KING.

Many have been wondering what sort of a king the wastrel Prince Carol would make.

One of his first steps is a good one.

His aides laid before him copies of French and English papers, on sale in Bucharest, violently attacking him. The press of his Government wanted to know whether the old Rumanian custom of confiscating such sheets would be continued.

"I will tolerate no confiscation," ordered the king. "The whole world may write about me as it likes. I have just returned from France, where the press enjoys real freedom."

He added a word on hostile demonstrations, actually inviting the public to demonstrate against him, if it had a grievance, even within the palace courtyard.

King Carol, with the enthusiastic support of the dominant party behind him, can afford to be confident.

But these acts are based on more than confidence. Older heads, afflicted with political "wisdom," would frown on them, no matter how great the king's support.

They are another form of the king's daring, his carelessness, his trick of going the whole hog, abdicating one day, seizing power the next. They are Carol's audacity given official substance.

And they may make his reign a most successful one. It is odd but true that the qualities of sobriety, caution and exceeding timidity which makes successes of private careers, are the very qualities which leaders profit most by losing.

A WORD TO CHICAGO.

It is announced in Chicago that all the newspapers in the city are "united in a war to the death" on gunmen and gangsters. This is because of the assassination of a reporter who was killed by racketeers. It might be observed for the benefit of Chicago and its various journals that a good beginning might be made in the contemplated war with a quick and sweeping change in what is known as the Chicago style of writing.

It has become the fashion of a large cult of Chicago writers working in and out of newspapers to romanticize the gangsters even while denouncing them. There is nothing genuinely romantic about gangsters. Their murders and their violence seem thrilling only to a childish mind. There is more of the spiritual stuff of romantic drama in every police court session than can possibly be found in the crimes of dope victims and the mentally defective thugs who kill for money. No one of normal intelligence supposes that Chicago is really a city given over to violence. What that community needs to make itself better known is a better sense of news and drama in its nosier writers.

AUTOMOBILES AND THE WORLD WAR.

The annual death rate due to the automobile, according to Robert Lamont, secretary of commerce, is now close to the American casuaities in the World War.

Fatalities have increased from 12,500 in 1920, to 31,000 in 1929. And while in 1926 there were 107 deaths for each 100,000 cars in use, last year the rate was 117.

The rising toll has been blamed on such factors as the increased utilization of the average motor car and the high speeds at which it is driven. These have undoubtedly had some effect. But of far greater importance is the general disregard of traffic regulations and the fact that most of our states are now attempting to control 1930 conditions on 1915 laws.

Only seventeen states require examination of drivers. The other thirty-one allow persons to use the public highways irrespective of their competence or responsibility. Almost no states have modernized, adequate or rigidly enforced traffic codes. Last year a few cities such as San Francisco, St. Louis and Chicago recorded decreases in their automobile accident records through concentrated attention to traffic problems.

That the rising death and injury rate caused by automobiles is one of the gravest of our national problems goes without saying. It is the opinion of experts that improvement in the situation will only come when every state requires examination of drivers, keeps the reckless and incomptent from using public highways and rigidly enforces traffic codes in keeping with modern conditions.

With the local candidates touring the county and the state office seekers advancing at intervals on the Navarro stronghold politics have become strongly entrenched in the spotlight of community activities and will remain in that favored position until August 23.

The great "Battle of Rum," or should we say battle for rum, continues. Hardly a day passes without the death of an enforcement officer or a rum runner being reported.

We never heard a constructive criticism of the weather.

LESSONS IN LIFE.

Every person should go to the cemetery at least twice in life. Once at the end of life, and first early in life to reflect on the brevity of life and the insufficiency of worldly goods. There is no place like a quiet cemetery for meditation and there is room in life for more serious thought.

The tombstones hold a moral for all living. There is inscribed the human virtues, but among the inscriptions there is no record of estates left behind, fortunes made and spent and worldly fame attained. The magnitude and sculpture of the stone or the vault alone remain to remind the world of "the boast of heraldry and the pomp of power."

Why should human beings worry and struggle through life's fleet span in pursuit of wealth, fame, luxuries, vanities and all those other evanescent things we choose to call riches? The poor are distressed by too little money, the moderately wealthy by the thought that others possess more weath than they, and the rich by too much money.

The Garden of Paradise was paradise only so long as Adam and Eve entertained no thought of worldly things. There were no pestering bank accounts, troublesome servants, expensive automobiles, business worries and social and fashion detractions in Paradise.

Few people have learned the secret of living well. Most of us measure contentment in terms of dollars and social position. The number is negligible which views life as a golden opportunity to work and think and be joyful.

The supreme court holds that buying what now passes for liquor is not a violation of the act. Otherwise you would have a case of double jeopardy.

There is a typographical error in the title, "The Right of Pedestrians," of a law review article. It should have been "rites."

The time has arrived when our supply of "sleeping under blankets every night" postcards will be replenished.

The fellow who invented that new vegetable substitute for spinach isn't a public benefactor. He's a conspirator.

Conscience doth make cowards of us all, not to mention making meddlers of about half of us.

When swords are turned crowd will turn war profits into plowshares the same into steel shares.

GOOD HIGHWAYS HAVE LARGE PART IN WORLD ADVANCE

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8.—(AP)—Good highways are contributing more than any other factor in promoting friendship, consolidating schools, fortifying churches and stabilizing markets, Charles H. Brough, former governor of Arkansas, today told the United States Good Roads Association delegates in 18th annual convention here.

Brough urged the delegates to go on record as favoring an additional congressional appropriation of $25,000,000 for bridges and culverts on interstate highways and an additional $50,000,000 for aid to post roads traversed daily by rural mail carriers.

"Let us also urge upon our representative general assemblies and our highway commissions the elimination as rapidly as possible of the 16,000 grade crossings on federal aid roads alone and the placing on these highways of uniform markers for the information and convenience of our tourists," Brough suggested.

Work of women in several states in beautifying highways was commended by Brough.

An actor portraying the role of a burglar was creeping across the stage when suddenly five shots rang out from the rear of the house. Actors and audience immediately fled, and when police arrived they found only a dead man in one of the seats and three theatre employes.

The slain man was identified as Hung Wah Hung, president of the Tong Ong, an organization of merchants independent of the Hip Sing and the Leong tongs. Roaming the Realm — Of — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

One of the feature atractions carded for this week end in the Navarro County Baseball League will be the double header game to be played Sunday afternoon in the Munipical Park between the Bazette and Magnolia nines, the first game to count in the first half standings, as a result of the recent ruling of the Board of Directors of the league which recinded former action in the case of the baseball game to be played here as part of a double header on June 22nd.

The feature attraction at the Muny park will be one of the high lights of the season and it is assured that both teams will be in there fighting, and in the event the Bazette nine wins the contest, the first half will end in a tie between the Magnolia and Blooming Grove nines, if the Oilers win the contest, the standings will remain the same as last announced, one game margin over the Blooming Grove nine.

The Blooming Grove and Whites Chapel nines will be idle on that date and it is expected that fans from both communities will be on hand for the crucial contest. A great deal of interest in the game has been shown throughout the county, and a capacity crowd should be on hand for the occasion.

In the only other contest for Sunday, the American Well nine will play the Humble Oilers on the latter's diamond at Mildred. A number of improvements have been made at the Humble field and it is now considered one of the best in the league.

The miniature golf courses in Corsicana are becoming quite popular and are crowded each evening with runt golf fans. The course recently opened on the vacant lot at the corner of Twelfth street and Colin streets, is quite a sporty affair and old man par still holds precedence, with the lowest score turned in one of the regulation 44 for the eighteen holes.

Saturday afternoon, the Magnolia Oilers journey to Blooming Grove for a contest; Whites Chapel plays the American Well at the Munipical Park and the Humble nine goes to Bazette.

ing James P. Alexander and J. A. Stanford of Waco, in the race for associate justice, court of civil apepals at Waco; Sterling P. Strong, for lieutenant governor. The claims of Senator Edgar Witt of Waco for the lieutenant governorship were presented by Wayne R. Howell of Corsicana; Senator V. A. Collins of Dallas spoke in behalf of Senator Tom Love; and R. J. Jackson presented R. S. Sterling for the governorship

Dr. Hill Introduces Speaker

Dr. B. W. D. Hill of Dawson introduced the Houstonian, declaring that it was a pleasure to have an outstanding citizen of the state as the guest of the day, particularly since he was not a candidate but interested in issues only.

Davidson asserted that Navarro county was almost as dear to him as his own native Limestone county. In his introduction he paid tribute to the outstanding citizenship of A. A. Allison, of Corsicana, life-long friend who accompanied him to the Thursday meeting.

Launching into his speech, he declared that he had not selected a candidate for governor, but was following the example of about four-fifths of the people of Texas and was carrying out a process of elimination. He said that the majority of the people had decided those whom they vote against but not those they would support. He declared that three must be eliminated, naming Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, Senator Tom Love and Earle B. Mayfield, declaring that they had not a single act of substantial benefit to their credit.

In reviewing the political situation Davidson said, "There has been a complete change in the line-up during the past week or ten days." His speaking dates have carried him from the extreme of Eastern Texas as far West as Brady and Comache. He expressed the belief that the Love and Mayfield supporters are leaving them in large numbers and going to Small and Young. He further said, "It appears Sterling is making some inroads on the Ferguson support and attracting some of the Mayfield and Love support. The Ferguson support seems to stand more solidly than Love's or Mayfield's. Small and Young are both gaining ground more rapidly than any of the other candidates in the race. When Sterling first announced there was a leaning toward him on the "Business man" theory, but as his campaign progressed and his chemerical scheme of a Statewide Bond Issue got to be understood the voters came to a sharp halt.

Scores Bond Issue.

"The people are now beginning to thoroughly understand that to substitute a State Highway Bond Issue for County Bond issues would place debts upon counties who have no debts and multiply five times the debts of the counties who have already created debts. The people well understand that to amend the constitution and change the gasoline tax, now an occupation tax, twenty-five per cent of which goes to the school fund, into a constitutional tax none of which goes to the school fund but pledged to pay bonds, would automatically take eight to ten million dollars annually away from the school children, and that such a chemerical scheme is an all sufficient reason why they should vote against Sterling for govenor. Loss to the school fund of the gasoline tax would necessitate amending the constitution again to raise the ad valorem taxes on property twenty to twenty-five cents to recoup the school fund. We are already spending thirty-seven cents of every tax dollar on roads and only twenty-seven cents on schools. Mr. Sterling proposes to add more to the road tax and take it away from the schools.

Opposed More Taxes.

"I am opposed to more taxes and burdening the people with more taxes. Mr. Sterling's candidacy is inseperable from the State Highway Bond Issue, the whole purpose of which is more and greater taxes and provides no relief from existing taxes. I predict that if the State Highway Bond Isse is written into our constitution, within three years time there will be no way on earth Texas can avoid the imposition of an income tax. Mr. Sterling in a public address charged that I had been fighting the statewide bond issue for two years, and true indeed is that statement. I expect to continue to oppose it with all the power a my command. Mr. Sterling cries, "Elect me first and then submit this question to the people." Why should we go to the expense of electing Sterling or Love, have our legislature haggle over the thing for months as it already has, then call another election of the people to decide whether or not they want the bond issue. You can pass on it now. It is a part and parcel of Mr. Sterling's and Tom Love's candidacy. If you are against the bond issue vote against both Sterling and Love. If you are for the bond issue, vote for Sterling or Love.

"Mothers and fathers of Texas with children to educate; teachers of schools, interested in the education of the children of Texas; ask your attorney to secure a copy of the State Highawy Bond Issue Constitutional Amendment offered at the behest of Governor Moody and Ross Serling by Senator Walter Woodul in the legislaure, study it carefully and advise you whether or not the adoption of this amendment would not automatically take that part of the gasoline tax away from the schools that they now get."

Would Saddle Debts

Davidson declared that such a constitutional amendment as would be needed to authorize the bond issue could be used later as a means of saddling numerous other debts on the people of Texas. He asserted that he knew from experience that the legislature could not be trusted.

He attacked Sterling's personal qualifications for office asserting that he was not equipped for the governor's chair. The speaker also asserted that there was a possibility that the gas tax would disappear with the rapidly changing means of transportation.

Davidson declared that he differed with those who thought that the state had an efficient highway commission and department, charging that they were efficient only in maintaining a huge spending orgy. He declared that roads were too expensive and were being built too rapidly.

Says Taxes Be Increased.

He also presented figures to show that the ad valorem taxes would be increased and that the debt would be heavier on all counties, asserting that the average debt would be about $90 per person. He also charged that such a congregation of funds in Austin would result in a great graft.

The speaker also attacked Sterling for not resigning as chairman of the highway commission, declaring that his premise that he had as much right to retain his office as a governor or a senator would not hold since they were elected by the people and he was a political appointee.

He asserted that Clint Small and Jim Young were men of unimpeachable integrity, and were worthy of support. He asserted that he had told these two candidates that if either of them were elected and made as great a "fizzle" in their first term as the last several administrations that he would take the stump and run against them for the second term. He also scored the second term system.

MILLERS CAFE.
Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Miller.

home. The road proceeds north of Purdon about two miles and thence westward to a point in the northern section of Dawson, and thence to a point in the northern city limits of Hubard, Hill county, near the intersection of the Hubbard-Hillsboro and Hubbard-Irene roads and thence westward to the Hill-McLennan county line, connecting with the road system now under construction in McLennan county. The present route through Hill county is to be eventualy abandoned, it is understod.

Cost Half Million.

In the event that the state builds the highway through the western seicton of Navarro county, it will cost approximately $500,000. The present proposed construction of the roads in the Purdon road district, connecting with the Corsicana-Corbet lateral road, is not acceptable to the state highway department due to the creek bottoms, etc., encountered, but there is a possibility that in the event that the nine-foot slab is consructed to Richland creek three miles east of Dawson, the state might take that route for a temporary location and maintain it instead of the present route via the Pursley slab and Ward bridge, but nothing definite has been assured.

There has been some talk of changing the proposed location of the road in Purdon road district to comply with the state surveys, but nothing definite has been done and it is the opinion of many persons that the road will eventually be constructed as the original petition provided. The Purdon road district voted $135,000 bonds several years ago, but nothing has been done toward the construction of the roads. The bond issue has been tied up in litigation in the local district court for months and the case is still pending.

No Rush to End Suit

County officials as well as the Purdon road enthusiasts have apparently not exerted any great effort toward the disposing of the litigation, and it has been apparent that the county officials desire to complete the work in consolidated road district No. 1 prior to beginning a new job.

County Judge Clay Nash Tuesday afternoon sent an official communication to the State highway department, advising that the right-of-way matter on State highway 31 from the eastern boundary of this district to the Trinity River had been secured and that fifteen of the eighteen deeds had been executed.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee unofficially advised the State highway department of the action of the commissioners court and the citizens of Kerens in procuring the funds for the right-of-way. It is thought in official circles here that the contractor on the dirt and drainage structures on the 10 miles will move his equipment into the area within the next few days. Judge Nash is checking and looking over the deeds on the right-of-way and they will be filed as soon as possible. In the event that settlements are not consummated with the three property owners who have not executed deeds on this stretch at once, condemnation proceedings will likely be instituted.

J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer, stated Wednesday morning that he expected the contractor to be given a work order in a few days and that actual work would be in progress shortly.

An ultimatum had been given Navarro county on this right-of-way by the State department, which declared that unless something definite was done by Wednesday (today) the contract would be cancelled and the road project abandoned.

The contract for the dirt and drainage structures on the road via Kerens approximates $157,000.

Work is under way on National highway 75 north of Corsicana to the Ellis county line via Rice and also on the huge concrete bridge spanning the old and new channels of Chamber's Creek, but this road will not be completed before 1931, from present indications.

Conditional letting of contracts on Highway 75 in Ellis county are expected at this month's highway commission meeting with the county defraying the entire cost, and the highway department to reimburse them later in the year in order that the work may not be delayed.

It is highly probable that the work on the lateral road from Corsicana to Ward Bridge on the Richland Creek will not be started until after the crops are gathered in order that the expense of crop damage and also the movement of the crops may not be encountered.

Work is progressing on the tie-in on Highway 75 from the intersection of South Fifteenth street and west Thirteenth avenue to the highway via the brickyards south of the Magnolia refinery. No work has been started on the tie-in from Highway 75 north of Corsicana to the present 18-foot pavement on North Beaton street at the L. T. Davis corner.

Work On 139

Work is progressing on the dirt and drainage structures on state highway 139, Corsicana-Palestine highway, between Corsicana and the Three-Way Filling station. The plans and specifications are practically completed to the Eureka sector and it is expected that the state highway commission will award the contract on that sector at the July session, as consolidated road district No. 1 is putting up all of the funds there.

The Spirit of Progress is a famous statue on the original Montgomery Ward & Co. Building, Michigan Boulevard, Chicago. For generations it has been a symbol of leadership and inspiration for this great world-wide organization.

The Spirit of Progress

Guides Montgomery Ward & Co.

Starting as the original mail order house and now operating the world's largest general merchandise chain, we continue to strive to realize the ideals of leadership which our symbol represents 18,000,000 people will see this announcement in more than 650 of the nation's leading newspapers this morning.

You are personally interested in this important message and will be well repaid for the time you take to read every word.

Leadership demands action. A great deal has been said and written about unemployment and poor business. You read much about the reduced purchasing power of the average citizen—but what about his paying power?

Despite the unemployment, the present average weekly payroll of America is estimated at $840,000,000. In addition, the registered savings accounts total over twenty-seven billion dollars and are steadily increasing. Yes, there is ample paying power. But we believe that general business will improve only when the buying public are satisfied that prices to them (and that means to you) reflect the new low commodity levels.

In our judgment, commodity prices are scraping bottom today. We do not say that there will not be some further declines, but broadly speaking, current prices are the lowest in years, in some cases the lowest in 15 to 20 years.

Leadership Demands Action

Montgomery Ward & Co. is placing orders for millions of dollars worth of merchandise at these new low commodity levels. There are 120,000,000 American people to be fed, clothed, sheltered and entertained; and regardless of unemployment, poor export business, low agricultural prices, etc., the requirements of the American nation total a huge sum.

New Fall Prices Now

For many years it has been the custom of Montgomery Ward & Co. to make Fall prices effective when our Fall and Winter Catalogue is distributed, about September 1st.

Months ago we cut prices. During the past 60 days there have been further declines in the cost prices of many items of merchandise—and all these low prices we are making effective at once—so that as far as Montgomery Ward & Co. customers are concerned, they need not wait for lower prices. Ward's prices are down NOW to the new commodity levels.

How Do You Judge a Low Price?

Only by the dependable quality you receive.

There is nothing cheap about Montgomery Ward & Co. merchandise. We have never sacrificed quality to make low prices, and despite the surprising savings that are possible on thousands of different articles which we sell through our catalogues and Retail Stores, you can buy from us with complete confidence.

There is a good deal in the papers now about the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. They used more than 7,000 articles selected from our regular stocks and they used them under conditions where quality and dependability meant life itself. Their verdict was radioed to us in March from Dunedin, New Zealand, "Satisfactory in all respects."

Our method of doing business can be stated in one phrase—

"You Must Be Satisfied"

The goods you buy from us must be "satisfactory in all respects." Leadership demands action. In making our Fall prices effective now, we are doing something definite to establish public confidence in new price levels and we are taking this constructive step to stimulate the use of your buying power.

For years we have recognized the conveniences and advantage of the Time Payment method. We are selling annually many millions of dollars of goods on Easy Payments. Basically the American Public is honest, meets its just obligations. On that belief we have never hesitated to sell on time. Over a period of many years, our experience has been thoroughly satisfactory and our bad debt losses negligible.

Now, for the first time in the history of American merchandising, a national institution offers this Time Payment opportunity

Beginning today and continuing until September 15, Montgomery Ward & Co. will sell you any merchandise shown in its catalogues or Retail Stores (excepting groceries) on the Easy Payment Plan, provided your order totals $25 or more

We have begun the mailing of 10,000,000 announcements to our customer list, giving full details. Visit the Ward Store in your neighborhood for complete information. We know this offer will bring us additional business. It will make us new friends. It will acquaint great numbers of people with the dependable quality and the low prices that are the foundation of our business.

We consider it a constructive move (one of the very few that have been made thus far) to stimulate consumer buying. Even a small upturn in demand will start orders to factories, wheels turning, unemployment lessening and a resultant upward trend to our general business structure and prosperity.

Many will praise us for this move, some will criticize us. I hope that other institutions, large and small, will follow with their constructive plans to persuade the public to use its paying power. In his first daily newspaper article of July 1st, Calvin Coolidge said,

"My countrymen, it is time to stop criticizing and quarreling and begin sympathizing and helping."

Prices based on the new low commodity levels, quality goods of absolute dependability, our policy of "You must be Satisfied" and now this great 60-day Easy Payment opportunity. Surely these combine to bring you economy, convenience and satisfaction in your buying.

Yours sincerely,

George B. Everitt

President.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

REPRESENTATIVE FEDERAL FARM BOARD TALKS TO BANKERS

FARM BOARD FUNDS MERELY TO SUPPLEMENT REGULAR CREDIT LINES, HE SAID

Farm board funds will only supplement the regular credit lines extended through the local banks according to C. H. Alvord, southwestern representative of the federal farm board, who was the principal speaker before the regular quarterly meeting of the Navarro County Bankers association at Baum lodge Tuesday night.

A movement was also started by the association to secure a representative on the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas.

A buffet luncheon was served, including barbecued chicken, assorted lunch meats and all the necessary trimmings under the direction of Harry Butler.

C. M. Newton of Dawson president at the meeting in the absence of R. L. Harris of Blooming Grove, who was unable to attend because of illness. A report from a special committee investigating the advisability of a county wide service charge was delayed for further study.

Mr. Newton announced that the Navarro county banks were now represented on the advisory council of the Federal Reserve Bank by Joe B. Fortson. Mr. Fortson declared that his group was subject to the call of the chairman and their duties were to consider the problems of the member banks and to make recommendations to the bank board. He stated that he believed that Navarro county should be represented on the board of directors.

A. G. Elliott pointed out that the banks in groups 2 and 3 could secure a representative if they carried out a careful campaign, and made a motion that a committee be named to investigate the matter and report back to the association. In seconding the motion, John Beck of Frost declared that the counties in this section of Central Texas produced about one-fifth of the cotton of the state, and should be represented. The chairman announced that the committee would be named later.

Fred Upchurch, Corsicana attorney ,was next introduced and made a humorous talk on the subject "Sense, Common and Preferred," in which he attacked the idea of personal superiority for special privileges rather than on a basis of actual merit.

Drane Introduces Alvord

F. N. Drane, bank director and county chairman of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, was presented and after discussing the recent protective tariff legislation, introduced C. H. Alvord, farm board representative.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Alvord declared that it was the farm boards purpose to aid the banker and coming closer to the farmer, and to aid in bringing about a better balanced farm program.

The marketing of cotton through the cooperative associations, state branches of the national body, will not affect the bankers business, he declared but will assist in saving the market from stagnating, and also prevent such a bulk of frozen assets for banks in rural communities.

The farm board funds will be used only to supplement the funds secured through the banks in each community, Mr. Alvord pointed out, and were more of an emergency reserve than actual working capital. Just as the tariff is supposed to protect the manufacturer, the cooperative association and its holding organization, the stabilization corporation, will attempt to aid the farmer by maintaining a fair market.

New Agricultural Policy

Mr. Alvord declared that the farm board was advancing a new agricultural policy in which the crop needs [illegible] to be considered. While efforts were made this year to restrict the cotton acreage to about forty million acres, or a decrease of about fifteen per cent over last year, a reduction of about two and a half per cent secured. He declared that the board would attempt to prevent a surplus, and were firmly against overproduction in any commodity.

He outlined the four main purposes of the farm board and its branches as the minimizing of speculation, centralizing of distribution ,organization of the producer and control of the surplus and over-production. The cooperative association was declared to be the only possible medium of relief for the use of the farm board or of the people.

After the board had decided no the plan of operation and the old cooperative associations were either taken over, reorganized, or new ones formed. In Texas the old Texas Farm Bureau association was taken over and reorganized, with an effort being made to decentralize the organization and give it a greater scope.

Directors Men of Ability

The speaker mentioned several of the directors which includes Lawrence Westbrook, T. O. Walton of Texas A. and M. college, Mr. Lydig and others, who are men of ability. He called attention to the new plan of operation and the new marketing agreement by which a farmer is only obligated to sell half his crop through the associations. He stated that the Texas Cotton Cooperative association was the only organization recognized in the state by the farm board although others had sought to qualify. He declared that the banker could afford to aid the farmer in the new organization much better than before.

He called attention to the liberalized policies of the associations and outlined the set-up, including the branch offices at which the cotton will be classed and advances made or the cotton received for marketing. He stated that the American Cotton Cooperative association was incorporated under the laws of Delaware with headquarters in New Orleans. He stated that the manager, Mr. Creekmore, was a man of unusual ability and was reputed to be one of the greatest cotton merchants in America.

Has Three Options

Each farmer who joins the association has three options he declared: he may either sell his cotton outright, or secure advances on the seasonal or optional pools. He pointed out that the memberships carried no liability for losses if the proceeds of the cotton fell below the advances in the seasonal pool, and that no loss was incurred by the association, but the loss was borne by the farm board funds through the stabilization corporations.

This season farmers in South Texas are receiving advances of approximately $50 per bale for their cotton, and the association must either sell the staple or protect themselves. The associations are protected by their own merchandising operations and by the holding corporation.

In answer to various questions the speaker stated that the interest on the advances would be slightly above the federal reserve rate, and that at present, farmers in South Texas were paying approximately six per cent.

Cotton will not be sent to a yard when it is put into the association for sale immediately but will be sent from the gin to the railroad or the compress. Discussing the cost of handling the cotton, Mr. Alvord stated that the association had been able to handle the cotton below the ordinary average.

He also stated that the association would not handle more than ten to twenty-five per cent of the crop, and that the remainder would be handled in the usual way through the street buyer and other sales agencies. He reported that the stabilization corporation now had on hand about one and a quarter million bales from last season, and reiterated that the total cotton acreage must be reduced if a better market was to be maintained.

Albert Evans, assistant national director of Red Cross disaster relief, was introduced to the association by John Beck, and paid tribue to the cooperation shown his workers in the county, and to the sturdy spirit of the people of Frost who are rapidly rebuilding and removing the signs of the tornado that swept them about two months ago.

A committee composed of John Beck, Mr. Seale and J. H. Roberts was named to prepare a memorial to R. L. Harris, president of the association who has been seriously ill for some time.

Mr. Beck took occasion to thank the representatives of all parts of the county for the friendliness and cooperation extended the people of Frost during their troubles, and for the ready assistance which had been given them.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR HIGHWAY EAST TO RIVER IS ASSURED

The Navarro county commissioners court appropriated an additional $2,000 at the afternoon session on the state highway No. 31 project and the Kerens citizens will raise the remaining $500 which now assures the building of the road as designated.

This action of the court this afternoon makes the total appropriated by the court toward this project amount to $6,000.

The total amount needed to assure the project was $9,500 of which the Kerens citizens will give $3,500.

Conferences and discussion over the securing of the right of way of approximately ten miles on State Highway 31, beginning at the eastern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1 and extending to the Trinity river between Navarro and Henderson counties, connecting with the improved roads under construction in Henderson county and Consolidated Road District No. 1, were held at the special meeting of the Navarro county commissioners' court and the road committees of Corsicana and Kerens Tuesday morning.

When adjournment was taken at 12 o'clock, no definite plan had been worked out. It was shown in the discussion that Kerens citizens had raised $3,000 and with the $4,000 offered by the commissioners' court, a deficit of approximately $2,500 remained. Kerens offered to raise $500 of the remainder and Corsicana suggested that Kerens raise $1,000 and Corsicana the remainder.

The two road committees and the commissioners were to meet again Tuesday afternoon in an effort to devise and work out a means whereby the remaining money could be secured.

Corsicana citizens had previously offered to underwrite the $2,500 equally with Kerens, but the Kerens committee said they could not do it.

It was brought out in the discussion that it was time for the matter to be brought to a head, and that if the right of way was not secured, the state highway department had advised local citizens that the contract on the grading and drainage structures for approximately $157,000, would be cancelled and the project abandoned Wednesday, as the contractor was clamoring either for a work order or a cancellation of the contract. The contract for the grading and drainage structures was awarded approximately three months ago.

Small Sum Blocks Road.

It was brought out that the $2,500 needed was standing in the way of the securing $400,000 road without the voting of bonds.

Mid Westbrook, Kerens banker, stated that deeds had been secured from all the property owners with the exception of three.

The right of way, crop damages, etc., will approximate $9,500.

C. L. Jester of Corsicana said he would be one of 50 men to give $50 to secure the needed money, J. E. Coates of Kerens also said he would favor such a proposition. A Kerens committee composed of Mid Westbrook, Dale Owen and J. E. Coates agreed to raise $500 more in Kerens.

R. J. Jackson, chairman of the Corsicana highway committee, countered with a proposition that provided for Kerens to underwrite $1,000 and deduct from it whatever amount less than the estimates submitted final settlement was made either by negotiations or condemnation proceedings. Kerens was not favorable to the proposition, pointing out that that entire community had been combed in the raising of the $3,000 already secured.

SEEKS INJUNCTION, DAMAGES AGAINST CITY OF CORSICANA

H. L. Albritton has filed a damage suit and asked injunction proceedings against the city of Corsicana and the city officials, seeking $10,000 damages to his properties northeast of Corsicana, and desiring to stop by temporary injunction proceedings the work toward the construction of the city incinerator near his property, alleging that his property will be considerably damaged due to the fact that the decaying matter, dead animals and other refuse from the city will be burned near his property, which will be a nuisance and be obnoxious.

The petition of the plaintiff alleged that the former injunction granted in the thirteenth judicial district court and later upheld in the higher courts restraining and enjoining the city from the using of a tract of land near Post Oak creek, south of the plaintiff's property, as a dumping ground, was not being complied with.

Hawkins Scarborough, district judge, stated Wednesday morning that no injunctive proceedings or orders had been presented to him in the case.

MISSISSIPPI MAN HEADS ROAD BODY; ASK CONGRESS AID

RESOLUTION ADOPTED SEEKS MAKING BANKHEAD HIGHWAY MILITARY ROAD

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 10.—(AP)—Election of W. A. Boone, Pontotoc, Miss, as president, and the passing of a resolution urging congress to take over the Bankhead National Highway and make it a military road, made up the major part of the session today of the Bankhead National Highway Association, meeting in conjunction with the United States Good Roads Association. The goods roads meeting was adjourned early this morning to give way to the Bankhead meeting.

Luther Liles of Anniston, Ala., C. E. Roop of Carrollton, Ga., and R. C. McDaniel of Arkadelphia, Ark., were elected to the positions of vice presidents at large. J. A. Roundtree, Birmingham, Ala., was re-elected director general.

The Bankhead delegates also urged congress to mark all highways with the numerical marking and the name of the highway, thus preserving the names familiar in road planning and building.

Plans to erect a monument in honor of the late T. A. Plowman, Talladega, Ala., the firts president of the Bankhead Association, were begun.

The Bankhead Highway, starting at the zero milestone in Washington, D. C., traverses the states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California, Rountree told the convention.

During the World War 37 cantonments, aviation fields and military posts were located on the Bankhead highway. There are 16 such army posts now on the highway.

HEAD NATIONAL COMMITTEE SLATED BE REMOVED LATER

sean and the leaders who want showdown between the Tennesshim to get out. The eight officers and party workers who assembled were said to be almost unanimous against his continuance as chairman.

President Hoover consulted with two of them both before and after the gathering at headquarters. They were James Francis Burke, counsel of the national committee, and Joseph R. Nutt, its treasurer.

Smiling after the mornings conference, which was called by him to discuss plans for the fall campaign, Mr. Huston received newspapermen in his office, he said:

"I will have a statement to make late today. The statements attributed to me in the morning papers are correct."

The statement referred to were repetitions of his determination not to resign, despite calls for such action from republican congressional quarters.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The republican conference recessed at noon today without reaching a decision on the status of Claudius Huston as chairman of the national committee.

William G. Skelly, committeeman for Oklahoma, arrived at the offices shortly before noon and hastened into the meeting. No word of what was happening had been allowed to filter out.

Huston Faces Men Who Seek Oust Him

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Full of fight, Chairman Huston of the republican national committee today faced the officers of his committee today who are calling of his committee who are calling for his immediate retirement.

In advance of today's meeting, he served notice he would fight it out for his position against the attacks of party leaders in congress and of his own committee. It is one of the most bitter quarrels in the republican organization in many years and intimates of President Hoover were anxiously looking for a settlement which would avoid a wide open break in the party's fold.

Today's meeting of the officers of the national committee was called by Huston several days ago for the purpose of mapping out plans for the fall campaign. It has developed into a showdown contest between Huston and the party leaders who are demanding his retirement.

After rounds of conferences at the white house and at the capitol the republican leaders were determined to ask today for Huston's early withdrawal. However, he returned to the city late last night and stated emphatically he had no intention of resigning.

Two courses were under consideration for today by the party leaders. They are prepared to ask Huston to call a special meeting of the executive committee. This committee alone has the power to remove and to replace national party officers. If Huston declines to do this, they are prepared to circulate a petition seeking a majority of the members to favor the meeting.

Others contend the whole issue over Huston is up to President Hoover. Mr. Hoover conferred with Huston on Sunday night and told him of the opposition to him but he did not ask for the resignation.

Then it became known that Huston had no intention of resigning. Thereupon, his foes, who had been confidently expecting his retirement as soon as congress adjourned, got busy. They determined to have it out with him today.

The trouble over Huston started at the time he testified before the senate lobby committee that he had solicited funds a year ago for the Tennessee River Improvement association in behalf of its lobby for the private leasing of the Muscle Shoals, Alabama, power and nitrate plant. Huston said he collected $31,000 for this work from the Union Carbide company and deposited it in his brokerage account before turning it over to the association.

Too Many Wives Found to Reduce Hotel Holdings

CHICAGO, July 10.—(AP)—The evidence indicates that Frank Gartenberg had a tendency to marry himself out of the hotel business.

He had four hotels to start with. When his first wife divorced him, he gave her a hotel and $30 a week alimony. When his second wife divorced him, she got a hotel and $10 a week. It was the same with the third wife who divorced him May 27, this year.

That left Gartenbero one hotel. He recognized that this hostelry would hardly keep up the alimony payments, so he remarried his third wife.

Now comes the first Mrs. Gartenberg complaining of alimony arrearage and asking aid of the court. Gartenberg told Judge Williams yesterday his remaining hotel business hardly justified paying the arrearage.

The court held that be it as it may, Mr. Gartenberg should forthwith pay on the alimony—or else.

If Mr. Gartenberg wanted to, he probably could indite an epigram, something about many wives making for fewer hotels: But doubtless he won't.

COLORADO BANK BANDIT MURDERER MUST PAY PENALTY

ernor's decision, immediately requested a conference with the supreme court justices who had sustained the verdict of the jury in Fleagle's case and denied him a hearing.

Mr. White said he wished to go over in details the confession Fleagle made at Colorado Springs, and for which, the bank robber claims, he understood he was to be given a life sentence.

In its opinion some time ago, the supreme court ruled that the state's promise to Fleagle had been kept to the letter, the opinion holding that Colorado had agreed not to ask the death penalty.

DENVER, July 10.—(AP)—In a last minute effort to obtain a stay of execution for Ralph Feagle, bank bandit, scheduled to hang at the state penitentiary, S. Harrison White, Feagle's attorney, today requested a conference with the supreme court justices who sustained the verdict of the jury in Fleagle's case.

Attorneys Seek Stay.

DENVER, July 10.—(AP)—Silence of Gov. W. H. Adams in the face of appeals for commutation of the death sentence of Ralph Fleagle, Lamar bandit, has been accepted here as meaning he will not interfere with the execution.

For more than two hours yesterday attorneys pleaded with the chief executive for a thirty-day stay of execution for the condemned gunman, whose gang shot and killed four men while robbing a Lamar bank and making their escape.

Taking the plea under advisement Governor Adams said absence of a statement would indicate denial of a reprieve.

Fleagle's execution is expected shortly after midnight tomorrow, traditional hanging day at the penitentiary. His sentence requires his execution before midnight Saturday.

Fleagle, apparently convinced no hope remains of escaping the noose, was reported by Rev. Regis Barrett, prison chaplain, to have said he had "put his trust in God Almighty."

DISCRIMINATION IS CHARGED BY NEGRO WORLD WAR MOTHERS

CLAIM INFERIOR ACCOMMODATIONS AND OPPOSE SEGREGATION

NEW YORK, July 10. —(AP)—Sixty negro gold star mothers will sail on the liner American Merchant Saturday to visit the graves of their sons in France, but a spokesman said today that "many of them will sail uphappy because of inferior boat and hotel accommodations and discrimination made in segregating them."

Walter White, acting secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, voicing dissatisfaction of the negro mothers, said that 55 of those who expected to sail had cancelled their reservations and sent a protest to President Hoover against their segregation from other groups.

Colonel Alexander E. Williams of the war department, said the American Merchant, although a smaller liner than others used to carry war mothers, offered "first class accommodations." He pointed out that it is a sister ship of the Somme and the Cambral, used to transport officers and their families to Porto Rico, Panama and United States possessions.

Efforts to quarter negro mothers in midtown New York hotels failed, Colonel Williams said, because the managements refused to accept them. Hotels in Harlem were then chosen upon the recommendation of Fred R. Moore, New York negro editor. 'Ceremonies aboard ship and at city hall be conducted for negro mothers just as for white mothers, the colonel said.

Officials of the White Star line, which operates the American Merchant, said the boat offered "the same cabin accommodations" as liners carrying other war mothers on the pilgrimage to France."

NEW YORK, July 10.—(AP)—The New York World today says that fifty-five negro gold star mothers who were to sail for France on Saturday have cancelled their reservations and have sent a protest to President Hoover alleging discrimnation.

The letter to the president, signed by the 55 women, protests the segregation of the negro women, contending they should be sent to France on the basis of geographical location with the white mothers.

The first contingent of negro women sailing Saturday on the American merchant is said by the World now to total only sixty-one, although originally 450 of the 800 mothers eligible had planned to go.

The World also says accusations have been made that inferior accommodations are being offered the negro women. The negro mothers are sailing on boats that are smaller, slower and cheaper than those used by the white mothers and quotes unnamed officials of the United States lines as saying that whereas the government paid $175 for a round trip passage for every white mother it is paying only $100 for the round-trip passage for the negro mothers.

Heat or Abuse Caused Bear to Kill His Mate

SPOKANE, Wash., July 10.—(AP)—For six years a male and female polar bear shared a cage here but showed little affection for each other. The female often cuffed the male soundly when he came too near. Yesterday when the thermometer registered 98 the male pounced upon his mate and killed her. Some attendants said the heat caused the male to attack. Others recalled the six years strained relations and shook their heads.

TARDIEU WON IN CHAMBER DEPUTIES OVER SOCIALISTS

PARIS, July 10.—(AP)—The government again today triumphed over its opponents in the chamber of deputies in an issue with the socialists by a vote of 325 to 259. Premier Tardieu posed a question of confidence over alleged excessive penalties imposed on leaders of the recent postoffice strike.

Fist-fights were narrowly averted in the chamber. To forestall physical encounters and let the deputies cool off the president suspended the session.

Political pasisons rose to fever heat. The cause of the excitement was apprehension on the part of the socialists that Premier Tardieu would read a decree ending the regular session of the chamber without giving them a chance to make another assault upon the government.

Since a battle Tuesday over furloughs for farm workers in the army reestablished the cabinet's opposition, the socialists had awainted the chance to make another assault on the government.

Leon Blum, the socialist leader, opened the offensive by demanding to know whether M. Tardieu proposed to allow or forbid discussion of the interpellation over alleged excessive penalties imposed upon the leaders of the postal strike.

A deputy from the conservative side interrupted Blum and accused him of being a member of the board of directors of a petroleum corporation. There was a converging of positions of the socialists and conservatives on the floor. More aggressive members began to scuffle.

Ushers intervened and the president stopped the turmoil by suspending the session.

CALIFORNIA GRAPE INDUSTRY FACING MARKETING CRISIS

NIGHT RIDERS ATTEMPT TO FORCE GROWERS TO SIGN FARM BOARD PROGRAM

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—(AP)—California's $400,000,000 grape industry faced a crisis today as the campaign to sign up 85 per cent of the growers in a farm board relief program tottered on the verge of failure and night riders moved through one vineyard area terrifying non-signers.

The Fresno county sheriff's office responded to two calls early today from grape growers asking protection from mobs, attempting to force their signatures to federal grape control board contracts. As far as could be learned, there were no physical encounters. The drive for signers was 80,000 acres short of its goal last night.

The farm board program calls for organization of 85 per cent of the acreage and an advance of $20,000,000 to the co-operatives to take care of the surplus crop this year, estimated at 300,000 tons or more. Each grower would pay the co-operative $1.50 on fresh grapes and $4.50 on raisins for every ton he produces, the aggregate to be used in buying up the surplus and converting it into by-products.

The farm board had stipulated 70 per cent of the acreage be signed by last night. The plan was not to become effective unless 85 per cent of the total acreage was signed five days hence.

SAN ANTONIO LOST ANNEXATION SUITS; WILL TAKE APPEAL

SAN ANTONIO, July 10.—(AP)—Judge George C. Calhoun of Austin held against the City of San Antonio today in the annexation suit brought against it by citizens living in territory annexed last September.

Attorneys for the city announced that appeal would be made.

Judge Calhoun in a lengthy oral opinion declared the charter amendment by which the city annexed the suburbs was void because it was not in strict conformity with the city charter and because it was unreasonable.

When the city annexed the suburbs last September it increased its size from 36 to 75.94 suare miles and increased its population by approximately 11,000. These gains will be lost to the city if the higher courts sustain Judge Calhoun's ruling.

The court ruling also automatically sets aside the municipal bond issue of last May unless the higher courts reverse the decision.

SENATOR SHEPPARD MAY NOT CAMPAIGN FOR RE-ELECTION

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas today said the importance of world peace and limitation of armament would make it impossible for him to return to Texas to make a personal campaign for renomination in the democratic primary of July 26, unless the special session concluded its work before that time. The senate now is considering the London naval treaty and Sheppard said that since he is the democratic whip he believed he would stay in Washington to help preserve a quorum for consideration of the treaty.

NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY CO-ED PLUNGES TO DEATH; CLIMBED FROM COCKPIT AND FELL FAR

LINCOLN, Neb., July 8.—(AP)—A plunge from an airplane, soaring over the municipal airport late yesterday cost the life of Miss Elberta Brinerkhoff, 21-year-old University of Nebraska co-ed.

A few minutes before the pilot of the low winged monoplane, Pete Orr, had pulled the young woman back into the cockpit of the ship after she had stepped out on the wing. He was circling the airport, preparing to land the ship, when the young woman again climbed out on the wing and fell to earth from an altitude of approximately 1,200 feet. Her body was found on the flying field.

Friends of the university senior said she had not been despondent and could advance no cause for her actions. Meanwhile C. A. Hugart, acting coroner, expressed the belief that it was a case of suicide and County Attorney Max G. Towle said an inquest probably would not be held.

Arriving at the airport in a taxicab Miss Brinkerhof arranged to make a brief flight. Orr, pilot for a flying school, began warming up the motor of the ship, and the girl laughingly remarked that she was getting nervous.

The plane roared down the runway and was soon high above the airport. Before the takeoff, Miss Brinkerhof had been strapped in the cockpit.

When the ship reached a high altitude, she stepped out on the wing, Orr, who holds a limited commercial pilots license, said. She screamed twice that she wanted to land.

The pilot grabbed her and pulled her back into the cockpit. While he was regaining control of the plane, the young woman again climbed out on the wing and plunged to earth, he said.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brinkerhoff were expected today, from their home at Mount Clare, Neb.

ARKANSAS FARMER CHARGED MURDER OF AGED PARENTS

WARREN, Ark., July 8.—(AP)—Albert Barnett, 30-year-old farmer, was in jail here today charged with the murder of his parents, while officers pieced together the story of a midnight fire that destroyed the farm home of J. R. Barnett, 65, and his 60-year-old wife, whose bodies were recovered from the charred ruins late yesterday.

Testimony at a coroner's inquest indicated that ill feeling had existed for some time between young Barnett and his father, and at one instance the father had been threatened by his son.

Investigation of the ruins yesterday, resulted in a murder charge being placed against Barnett, who with his wife, occupied a house near the home of his father and step-mother.

Sheriff John C. Lee reported the discovery of the elder Barnett's bloodstained hat near the home of his son. This and the finding of what was taken to be bloodstains on the floor beneath Barnett's body, led officers to suspect foul play.

Young Barnett testified at the inquest he had been awakened to see flames shooting from his father's house and had rushed to rescue the aged pair only to find the door locked. His wife's testimony was substantially the same.

COUNTY SCHOOL LAND OIL FUNDS ALSO RESTRICTED

AUSTIN, July 10.—(AP)—Proceeds to a county under an oil and gas lease on county permanent school fund lands are subject to the same restrictions that govern like proceeds to the University of Texas from its school lands, Attorney General Robert L. Bobbitt ruled today.

Such proceeds, the attorney general advised Sam D. W. Low, county judge of Washington county, do not belong to school districts as county available school funds, and may not be apportioned to school districts of the county.

The ruling arises, the opinion said, from state law that the oil and gas is a part of the land and that lease constitutes a sale of the oil and gas as a part of the land. As such, the proceeds must be handled as a part of the permanent school fund of the county.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, July 10.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 to 9 points in response to firm Liverpool cables and reports of continued high temperatures and dry weather over the greater part of the South.

There was some July liquidation, probably incident to the circulation of notices estimated at about 6,300,000 bales including deliveries at Savannah which sent the prices of from 13.15 to 13.06 during the early trading but new crop positions held fairly steady with new October contracts selling up to 12.85 or 7 points net higher while the new December at 13.03 showed a net advance of 11 points.

The market was quiet later in the morning but showed continued steadiness particularly in the new crop positions, which may have been influenced by the outlook for continued hot weather in the central belt. The new October contract sold up to 12.89 with the new crop positions ruling about 8 to 12 points net higher around midday. There was some scattering liquidation of July with the price off to 13.04 after which it rallied to 13.08 or within three points of yesterday's closing quotation.

New Orleans Cotton Steadier.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—(AP)—The cotton market had a steadier opening. Liverpool cables were better than due and first trades here showed gains of 5 to 6 points.

There was a continued improvement after the start. October trading up to 12.88 and December to 13.04, or 7 to 9 points above yesterday's close.

The market eased off a few points at the end of the first hour on realizing. Trading continued very moderate.

The market ruling quiet during the entire morning and gradually improved in price owing to shorts covering on the showing of the detailed weather report of high temperatures in the belt particularly in the central and eastern portions.

There was a total absence of rain reported.

July advanced to 12.88, October to 12.94 and December to 13.00, or 12 to 14 points above yesterday's close.

At mid-session the market was steady and practically at the highs.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, July 10.—(AP)—Despite a downward slant at the start, wheat prices quickly scvored a new advance today. Persistent heat and drought unfavorable for the spring wheat crop in the United States and Canada tended to lift the market.

Opening unchanged to 3-4c lower, wheat afterward rallied all around to above yesterday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were likewise firmer, with corn starting at 1-8c off to 1-8c up and subsequently showing general gains.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 1-8 to 1 5-8c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 5-8c off to 7-8c up. Oats 1-8 to 1-2c advanced, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 16c.

IN MEMORY OF GRANDMOTHER.

The death angel visited the Navarro Clinic at Corsicana and took from us our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Eula Florence Vest, June 13, 1930. She was 42 years and two days old. She was gay and happy a few hours before she was taken sick with appendicitis and she was taken to the Navarro Clinic and operated on, and everything was done that the doctors and nurses could do. And every loving hand was reached out to help her. But God had a vacant place in heaven and he wanted her to fill it. So he called her home.

She was laid to rest in Dresden cemetery June 15 at three o'clock with a great canopy of flowers over her. Ah how we do miss grandmother. She always had a smile for us and loved us all, and a kind, sweet voice that spoke kind words to us all. And grandmother was lover by all who knew her.

Grandmother, I am so glad you smiled at us when we said our last good-bye and you waved me on and smiled.

I'm proud of you Grandmother, mine, for the things you taught with the price you bought. The love of you God to shine. If to heights of life I go, I'll be true as you Grandmother, and hope to meet you in heaven some sweet day bye and bye.

Written by a granddaughter, Little Miss Pauline Price.

William Oliver of Kerens was carried home from the Navarro County Hospital.

I. C. COMMISSION CONSIDERING RAIL EXTENSION PLANS

FT. WORTH & DENVER SEEKS TO BUILD LINE 110 MILES NORTH FROM CHILDRESS

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today was considering reasons advanced for and against extension of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad 110 miles north from Childress, a permit for which had been asked by the Burlington system.

At a hearing yesterday speakers included Judge J. H. Barwise of Fort Worth, representing the Burlington and the Denver, C. C. Cook of Pampa, C. A. Williams of Childress, Albert Reed of Dallas, representing Amarillo, Wellington and Childress, D. E. Foy of Wichita Falls, W. D. Lawrence, assistant attorney general of Texas, representing the Texas Railroad commission, W. F. Peter, general counsel for the Rock Island railroad, Lee F. English of the Santa Fe railroad, and H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo, also representing the Santa Fe.

The Interstate Commerce commission in a divided opinion recently authorized an extension of the Rock Island from Shamrock to Quanah and a Frisco extension from Vernon to Seymour. The Frisco was authorized to purchase the Gulf, Texas and Western and to use the Rock Island to Quanah. The Rock Island was permitted to use the Frisco to Jacksboro and both lines from there to enter Dallas and Fort Worth by the Rock Island. The same time to build from Clinton, Okla., to Lefors.

While epressing no opposition to the Rock Island Frisco or the Santa Fe programs, Judge Barwise said the Burlington should be allowed to enter the Pampa territory. Lawrence spoke for granting all applications and Reed argued against the Burlington plan, while Rock Island and Santa Fe representatives opposed the Burlington application.

Unable to Bury His Son, Parent Trudges To Morgue; Kind-Hearted County Aids

MILWAUKEE, July 10. —(AP)—Gasparo Muccio walked through the crowds downtown last night, eyes forward vacantly. In his arms he carried, wrapped in a faded blue blanket, the body of his infant son.

There were tears in his eyes as he moved forward through the laughing crowds, stepping slowly, like an automaton. No one paid him heed—Gasparo Muccio walking with his dead.

Up the steps of the morgue he walked. That was where people took their dead when there wasn't money enough to pay for burial. If he could just leave his baby boy there until he could get more money.

But Gaspara Muccio need not worry. The country has a heart and a pocketbook.

They told him everything would be taken care of; and Gasparo Muccia, still bowed with grief, knew everything would be all right as he walked slowly out of the building, leaving the faded blue blanket and his little son behind.

PLUNGE OF 150 FEET FAILED TO KILL WAR VETERAN

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—(AP)—Miraculously surviving a 150 foot plunge out of the twelfth story offices of the veterans bureau here yesterday, Bernard W. Getz, world war veteran and city fireman, may live.

The hurtling form of Getz plunged through the top of a truck parked in Perdido street, smashing the steer gear and burying his head in the gasoline tank under the seat.

First believed dead he was carried to the hospital and revived and today was suffering from fractures of both thighs and both arms, a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

Getz had ascended to the veterans bureau to meet a doctor. He walked through the crowded office and went out of the window while those in the office gasped.

Peter Cozeen, owner of the damaged truck, had just alighted and had taken a few steps to St. Charles street, when the crash came.

MORE IMPROVEMENT IN MAIN STREET'S BUSINESS DISTRICT

The Main street business district continues to improve and new firms and businesses are soon to occupy homes on this street. One of these is the Purifoy Motor Company, formerly known as the Beaton Motor Company, which will occupy the Cooksey building at the corner of Main street and Third avenue as soon as same has been renovated and remodeled to suit the needs of the firm and make the structure absolutely modern.

J. E. Metcalf & Son have the contract for remodeling the Cooksey building, which was recently vacated by the Brown Motor Company. The work will include thorough remodeling and repairs, it is stated, and will cost several thousand dollars, and will make this building, which is already a practically new and modern structure, one of the best equipped for a general automobile business in the city. Russell Purifoy is head of the Purifoy Motor Company, and aside from his garage service is agent for the Oakland and Pontiac cars in this territory.

OFFICER WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH TWO RUM RUNNERS

CHICAGO, July 10.—(AP)—Two motorcycle policemen and two rum runners with an automobile load of alcohol engaged in a spectacular running fight along 22 miles of state highway between Joliet and Aurora, suburban cities, early today. The affray ended on the outskirts of Aurora with the perhaps fatal wounding of one of the officers, Henry Schelling.

Officer William Burke stopped to aid Schelling and the rum runners escaped. The officers confiscated the bootleggers' sedan and the intoxicants.

The shooting started on the outskirts of Joliet when the pair in the sedan opened fire on the officers without warning. The motorcycle policemen returned the fire and the battle continued as the sedan and cycles sped up to 88 miles an hour at times. One shot from the patrolmen pierced a tire of the sedan on the outskirts of Aurora, and the runners left their machine. They continued the attack afoot, but fled when Schelling fell with bullet wounds in the neck and shoulder.
